*These photos were given to us by testifying migrants who documented their own injuries. These pictures show open wounds and injuries from dog bites and truncheon attacks, which were caused by border police of Hungary and subsequently received poor medical attention in Serbia. This photos are part of the report "Bordered lives – unbound violence" by Moving Europe (*http://moving-europe.org/bordered-lives-unbound-violence/)